

The Solution Help Sheet

Here we go then folks, a nice little film quiz to celebrate completion of the Jester man cave, and why not I say, so here is how it works.

Complete each section of the quiz and come up with your answers, which you can tick off if you print this, or can make note of in electronic format if you wish.

You will then use the table at the end of the document to identify the ten films that are on the list but do not appear in the quiz.

Keep this to yourself, for now, then on a date that I will let everyone know about you can post the answers to the ten on X or Facebook.

Someone is bound to ignore this and post before then, but they may have it wrong, and besides, where is the fun in not reaching the conclusion yourself.

There are 10 rounds in total, and the first is the video of me asking questions, about film quotes, which is included in the introductory video and followed by an identify the film from the picture round and then name the film from the poster which has had all the wording removed.

Have fun!

We are off.
